ROMS DRAMA NEWSLETTER

Elf Jr. The Musical!

Hello drama families!
We are so close to opening our production of Elf Jr (only 9 rehearsals until we have an audience!) and We have some important reminders for you all.

Rehearsals all next week will run until 5pm. With so few left, we are asking that all families honor their commitment to the show and the class production by avoiding missing rehearsals for appointments or trips if possible. Missed rehearsals can result in your student being taken out of a dance number or scene, or having their understudy take over at a performance.

Props and Supplies Needed!

We are in need of some specialty props that we do not have in our storage, and some makeup/backstage supplies that we need to replenish for every production.

If you can donate one of these items by allowing us to borrow it if you have it at home, purchasing it from our Amazon List, or any other place, please contact Mrs. P

REMINDERS!

Again, all cast members (unless otherwise told) need a set of “winter clothes,” office clothes, black knee length socks OR black ankle length leggings, and SOLID black shoes. If you are having a hard time finding any items, please contact Mrs P ASAP.

Elf Tickets are looking great for Friday night. We only have about 20 seats left. PLEASE invite family to the Thursday night or matinee performances so they can have better seating options. Don't forget to have them give credit to your student when they buy on line!

SEEKING MORE VOLUNTEERS

We are canceling the Friday build day (November 10th). We had no parent volunteers signed up to help with construction so we felt it wouldn't be as productive as we wanted. It is crucial that we are having parents who are able to use tools to come and volunteer on these days. Our department is based on a foundation of parent/volunteer cooperation and we are hoping that we can count on all of you to step in and help your child's production be successful. We have already had to cut some things from the show since we've fallen behind after our first few builds.

The frank and honest truth is that if there is not a willingness of parents to help with sets, or if there is truly a lack of volunteers with these skills, we simply cannot proceed with a spring musical. Mr and Mrs P will be busy with a newborn before we are even scheduled to start building for the spring musical, and Mr P has taken up a huge load of the construction projects for Elf Jr. So, the decision to proceed with having a spring musical or not will be made based on our volunteer abilities/turn out for Elf. If we honestly cannot find the skill set in our community to put on shows of this magnitude, we will instead opt to take our drama classes to another competition in the spring and cancel Seussical. Mrs P cannot, in good faith, have Kylie and Chris take over a massive program without the support they need in place.

If you are able to sign up to help with sets, costumes, or anything, and KNOW family/friends who can also help with building our sets, please sign up at the following link.
